

SAS Upgrades Economy Extra

Since February, Scandinavian Airlines has served even better food on Economy Extra.

SAS Scandinavian Airlines as of February this year upgraded its premium economy class, Economy Extra, on its long-haul route network, including SAS flights from Bangkok to Scandinavia via Copenhagen / Stockholm. The upgrade includes the improved quantity and quality of meal service and the introduction of new starters and desserts. Passengers now receive a larger meal tray, with a luxurious Swedish brand “Orrefors” wineglass, and a larger second meal service.

“Economy Extra is a unique selling point for SAS, and is a service class that attracts both business travelers and leisure travelers in the region,” says Håkan Olsson, Director and General Manager Southeast Asia, SAS International.

“Economy Extra offers the customers from Southeast Asia such superior benefits as Business class check-in, bigger and more comfortable seats, and audio video-on-demand for in-flight entertainment. It is therefore key for us to continuously review our product offering,” Håkan says.

Customers from Thailand and Southeast Asia can test this upgraded Economy Extra from just Baht 54,900 (excl. tax and fees) from Bangkok to Copenhagen/ Stockholm/Oslo/Helsinki and return.
