You don't have to speak Danish ...

... to get personal investment advice

We offer you personal and individual investment advice.

So do a lot of other banks. But we insist on making a difference. We have Danish roots. Still we offer international advice with a local touch – always matching your specific requirements.

We have clients all over the world and speak to people of different nationalities every day. Therefore, we speak many languages, such as English, German and the Scandinavian languages – in a truly international environment.

Get an idea of what we can offer you in the way of personal investment advice on your terms.
